

2012 Ken Wold Cow Horse Clinic
Tentative Schedule of Events

May 26, 2012

1. 8:00 – 8:30 Check in
2. 9:00- Be saddled and ready to ride!
Welcome and Introduction.
 - i. Warm up exercises and “suppling” of your horse.
 - ii. Control of your horse’s body.
3. 12:00 Noon – Lunch provided by Wold Ranch
4. 1:00 Back in the saddle
 - iii. Circling, Guiding and Lead Changes.
 - iv. Turning and Stopping.
 - v. Working the Mechanical Cow properly – positioning on a cow.
5. 6:30 pm – Dinner at the Wold Ranch.

May 27, 2012

1. 7:00 am – Breakfast at the Wold Ranch.
2. 8:30 am - Be saddled and ready to ride.
3. Greetings and Review.
 - i. Implement Warm up exercises learned previously.
 - ii. Reined Work – broke down and implemented.
 - iii. Tips on Winning the Reined Work at a show!
4. 12:00 Noon - Lunch provided by Wold Ranch.
5. 1:00 pm - Be back in the saddle.
6. Introduction to the Cow Work.
 - iv. How to prepare you and your horse for the fence work competition.
 - v. Safety factors in working a cow.
 - vi. Fence Work Implemented.
 - vii. Tips on Winning the Fence Work at a show!
7. 6:30 pm - Dinner and Dancing at the Wold Ranch.
 - i. Enjoy the evening visiting, eating and dancing to live music.

May 28, 2012

1. 7:00 am - Breakfast at the Wold Ranch.
2. 8:30 am - Be saddled and ready to ride.
 - i. Greetings and Review.
3. Preparing you and your horse to show at a Cow Horse Event.
 - i. Mental and Physical preparation to win.
 - ii. Ken’s secrets to his success.
 - iii. Implementing techniques of winning.
 - iv. Questions and Discussion.
4. 12:00 Noon - Lunch
5. 1:00 pm - Horse Show. Here is your opportunity to apply what you have learned all weekend. The horse show will use a handicap system to “even the playing field’ between the Non Pros, Open riders and the first timers, as well as the experience level of the horses. There will be a Champion and Reserve Champion buckle awarded. You will be judged and scribed as if you were in an actual show situation. Keep in mind it is suppose to be FUN!!!
6. 4:00 pm Conclusion and awards.